

Inside Your Congress

"Greedy For Gold"

—by—
SAMUEL B. PETTENGILL
"The Gentleman from Indiana"

The overhead of government is not the worst of it. It's the under-hand.

When government goes virtuous and says everyone else is "greedy for gold," I feel like the man who got a divorce because his wife fed him nothing but eggs. She just egged him on.

It seems as though government never got real sanctimonious until lately. It used to be that the folks in government called each other liars and grafters, rather than we, the people. But now any poor soul who meekly asks to keep his dough out of the clutches of government, or who wants prices high enough so he can hold off the sheriff is "greedy for gold."

The government doesn't respect us any more. It just bawls us out. Well, I reckon it's our fault. However, I'm going to squint down the old musket barrel at these holier-than-thou government preachers for a minute.

Note that the executors of a millionaire ex-president want him declared to have been in military service so as to cut down his tax bill. This sounds like being just a little teeny bit greedy for gold, but there is probably another reason which you and I can't figure out. Then how about Senators putting their wives on the payroll? That's an old family custom. Many a man in Washington lives by the sweat of his brow.

Here's Henry Wallace. He wants to do us good, so he is asking our Congressmen to let him reach into our pockets for $54,000,000 more than ever before to run his department. Gosh, if you or I touched somebody for $54 million, or even for 54 bucks they'd say we were greedy for gold. Yes, sir, $54 million for Henry's department in 1938; $82 million in 1945; $111 million in 1946, and $165 million in 1947. If Henry would just let us keep our money we'd have less Department but more Commerce. We used to think that a tax cut was the kindest cut of all, war and Navy people, do you know that Washington payrolls increased in January by $4,569, or 1,000 a day including Sundays when they don't even pretend to work. The executive office of the President wants its appropriation for 1947 doubled over 1945. Peace time, too. More for Truman than for Roosevelt, the former world's record holder. And they are willing to accept 20 per cent more of the long green.

Why is it so selfish and noble to force someone else to pay for your groceries, duds and rent, but greedy to want to pay your own bills in full and demand that everyone else do the same?

The budget for next year ($36,000,000,000) calls for $120 million a day for every week day, or $4 per day per family. Could this be the wholely magnanimous and sublime? It couldn't have anything to do with elections, I know, so I am asking

WANTS IRAN OFF UNO AGENDA

A HIGH SPOT in the United Nations Security Council conference in the Bronx, N. Y., is pictured as Andrei Gromyko (in right foreground), Russian delegate, tells the delegates that the Iranian charge is one that is "not fitting" to be placed on the agenda. Seated beside Gromyko are Sir Alexander Cadogan of the United Kingdom and Edward Stettinius, permanent American delegate to the UNO. (International)

NICHOLAS TORANO, 39, IS CLAIMED BY DEATH

Well-Known Garage Operator Was Native Bristolian; Ill One Week

HOSPITALIZED 1 DAY

Nicholas Torano, well-known Bristol garage operator and automobile dealer, died last evening in St. Francis Hospital, Trenton, N. J., after an illness of one week. His home was at 261 Monroe street.

Mr. Torano, who during the winter had an attack of influenza, suffered a heavy cold recently, and had been ill for the past week. He was removed to the hospital yesterday, death occurring last night.

Born in Bristol he resided here for his entire life-time. He was 39 years of age.

For many years he was the local Studebaker dealer. He had formerly conducted a garage on Pond street, and for the past seven years operated a garage, also repair and towing service for Keystone Automobile Club, on Otter street.

A communicant of St. Ann's R. C. Church, Mr. Torano was also a member of Bucks Lodge, No. 1169, Loyal Order of Moose; Order Sons of Italy, and St. Ann's Athletic Association.

Son of the late Vincent and Elizabeth Torano, he is survived by his wife, Anna Palermo Torano; three children, Elizabeth, Maryann and Vincent Torano; and the following sisters and brothers, Mrs. Anthony LaSalle, Anthony, Frank and Michael Torano, Bristol; Mrs. Steven Nicoletti and Mrs. Anthony Ferrati, Philadelphia.

County Seat Man Serves Patrons for 49 Years

DOYLESTOWN, Mar. 27.—Forty-nine years after he started his business here, Robert L. Clymer, local merchant, enjoyed reminiscing this week of his early business venture.

"Today 49 years ago I arrived in Doylestown and began my store business at the corner of West Ashland and South Clinton streets," said Mr. Clymer this morning.

"The weather was more agreeable than it is today, but the roads, particularly the road between Ottsville and Plumstead, were so muddy it was more than a foot deep. The road from Plumstead to Doylestown, of course, was a toll-pike," Mr. Clymer said.

Comparing the first day's receipts, which were less than $10, with the highest day in the history of the County Seat's leading all-around store, is a business secret which makes Mr. Clymer deservingly proud.

Looking over some of the expenses involved from moving from Kintnersville to Doylestown, nearly a half century ago, Mr. Clymer was surprised to see that he had one bill which was for $2 and is tabbed as "Expenses for a horse doctor." He also bought a wagon for $8.

John B. Doan, Native of Tullytown Borough, Dies

TULLYTOWN, Mar. 27.—John B. Doan, husband of Louisa F. Doan, a native of this borough, died yesterday at his home here. He had spent his entire life-time in Tullytown.

Mr. Doan's survivors include his wife; two sons, Clarence J., of Tullytown, and John, Jr., of Bristol Township; two granddaughters; and three brothers, Frank, Lamar and William Doan, of this borough.

The Rev. Samuel Gaskell, pastor of Tullytown Methodist Church, will conduct the service at the Morden funeral chapel, 133 Otter St., Bristol, on Friday at two p. m. Burial will be in Tullytown Cemetery. Friends are invited to call Thursday evening.

THE JACKSON LEGEND

This is the season of the Jackson dinners. Democratic job-holders pay $100 for a meal worth, at current prices, about $1.35. The rest of the money goes into the party's war chest. Its purpose is to keep lots of public jobs available, and see that they are filled by Democratic small fry.

The process costs the jobholders $100 apiece—if they get "hooked." It is costing the American taxpayers more each year, in padded Federal payrolls, than the entire proposed fifty-year British loan.

Jackson Day is a good selection for such a celebration. Jackson is most famous as the man who created the "spoils system" of Democratic politics. And the dinners have this interesting feature—they are rarely held on Jackson's birthday; that is March 15, Income Tax Day, and a time when even the job-holding Democrats are forcibly reminded that their party's thirteen-year spree has left an incredibly vast tax bill, most of which still remains to be paid.

Behind the Jackson dinners is a legend which has been growing like the story of George Washington and the cherry tree.

Thomas Jefferson has been shoved aside, as incompatible with New Deal philosophy; and in his place is being erected a wholly fictitious version of Andrew Jackson.

The real Jackson was crude, ill-mannered, quarrelsome, vindictive, uneducated. He hated George Washington and loved Aaron Burr. His one great military victory came after the war was over; and he nearly started a bigger war by the manner in which he chased Indians through Spanish territory.

ENTERS $15,000 SUIT IN COUNTY COURTS

Matthew Covey Asks $10,000 in Behalf of His 5-Year-Old Daughter

WAS STRUCK BY A CAR

DOYLESTOWN, Mar. 27.—Claiming $10,000 damages in behalf of his five-year-old daughter, and $5,000 in his own right, Matthew Covey, Trevoise Heights, has named Wilfred C. McCardell, of Trevoise Heights, defendant in an action in trespass. The minor plaintiff is Dorothy Covey who was born Jan. 16, 1941.

Suit has been started in the Bucks County Courts here.

According to the statement of claim, filed in the Prothonotary's office, Dorothy was walking along Brownsline road, near Trevoise, May 19, 1945, when she was struck by a car driven by the defendant.

The minor plaintiff, who sustained considerable injuries, is claiming the sum of $10,000 and her father seeks to recover the sum of $5,000.

TULLYTOWN AFFAIR

TULLYTOWN, Mar. 27.—Mrs. Angelo Napoli was hostess for the party in celebration of the birthday anniversary of Miss Dorothy Monti, March 19th. Refreshments were served to: Mrs. Nicholas Eberle, Mrs. Frank Cutchinal, the Misses Dorothy Monti, Marie Napoli, Philomena Paoe, Helen Luciano, Rose DiCiccio, and Mrs. Angelo Napoli.

ONE MAN'S OPINION

By Walter Kiernan (Distributed by International News Service)

UNO HALL, Mar. 27.—(Delayed by natural causes) My feet hurt.

The Security Council is meeting three callouses from the nearest subway.

If the idea was to get the Soviet delegates up here in the Bronx and lose them it's still a distinct possibility.

Gromyko looked baffled the first day. They drove him up and when he got out of the car he said "Where is the Premier?" He thought he stood on the border of Iran.

Hunter College is attended by girls from all over and as I see it now, that's why it was picked by the UNO... it is much closer to all over than it is to Manhattan.

But I have great hopes for the success of the conference... men who must ride from 42nd Street to 260th Street in the subway can have no strength left to argue very long.

Now with Barney Baruch it's different. He stood right up in Washington and told the pie-in-the-sky brethren the price of the pie... buses leaving on the hour with protest groups.

How do you picket a park bench?

To Wed in September

PHYLLIS ROBERTA BARTOE

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willard F. Bartoe, of Hulmeville, whose engagement to Mr. Daniel Speakman, of Columbus, O., is announced. The wedding will be held at Valley Forge Chapel about the middle of September.

Mrs. Robert Cunningham Dies at Brunswick, Me.

A woman who was born in Bristol 87 years ago died this morning at Brunswick, Me. The deceased is Mrs. Ellen Garwood Cunningham (nee Yardley), wife of the late Robert Cunningham.

Mrs. Cunningham, who had made her home for a number of years with Mrs. L. J. Bevan, Cedar street, died at the residence of her son, Allen Garwood, at Brunswick. She had been in ill health for several years.

The deceased was a member of the Bristol Methodist Church. In addition to her son, she leaves a sister, Mrs. Arthur Roelofs, Philadelphia.

The Rev. W. E. Preston Haas, pastor of Bristol Methodist Church, will conduct the service on Friday at two p. m. at the funeral home of Robert C. Ruehl, 314 Cedar street. Burial will be in St. James' Churchyard.

Bank is Accused in Wage, Hour Dispute

PHILADELPHIA, Mar. 27.—The wage and hour division of the U. S. Department of Labor yesterday petitioned the District Court here to restrain the Merchants National Bank of Quakertown, Pa., from working its 14 employees more than 40 hours a week without the payment of time and one-half overtime rates.

The petition claimed that the bank had compelled its employees to work more than 40 hours weekly, without overtime pay, since Oct. 24, 1940, when the maximum work-week regulations became effective. The suit did not seek a refund of back pay allegedly due the workers. Judge Guy K. Bard set April 2 for a hearing on a motion for a preliminary injunction requiring the bank to comply with the wage laws.

BABY ARRIVES

Mr. and Mrs. John Chichilli, 829 Third avenue, are rejoicing over the arrival of a son born in the Episcopal Hospital, Philadelphia, on Friday.

Gross farm income in Pennsylvania now exceeds $500,000,000 a year, and costs of farming are highest in history, the State Department of Agriculture says.

HUSBAND NAMED AS THE BENEFICIARY IN LORIMER WILL

In Event of His Death Five Children Will Share The Estate

THE WRIGHT ESTATE

Letters Granted in Estate of Francis P. Fallon, Late Of Bristol

DOYLESTOWN, Mar. 27.—Jasper H. Lorimer, Morrisville, has been named by his late wife, Margaret C. Lorimer, as beneficiary of her $965.25 estate. In the event of his death, five children will share the estate. Individual bequests are as follows: Pearl heart pin, Elizabeth L. Jenks; China dinner set, Charles Lorimer; cameo pin, Jasper H. Lorimer; sewing table, Margaret L. Billington; flat silver, Frank D. Lorimer. The will was executed September 1, 1942, and Mrs. Lorimer died March 1st.

Philip K. Musselman, Dublin, who left a personal estate of $2875, bequeathed $100 to the trustees of St. Luke's Reformed Church and $100 to Mary C. Landis. The residue of the estate will be shared equally one-half by Mary C. Landis and Laura and Henry K. Musselman and one-half by Jacob, William, Isaac, Allen and Mahlon Rush, Annie Snyder and Elizabeth Schuler. The will was executed September 22, 1943, and the testator died February 25.

Letters of administration in the estate of Francis P. Fallon, of Bristol, were granted to Alice Fallon, Spruce street, Bristol, amounting to a personal estate of $5,000 and real estate valued at $1,000. Three sons, Arthur, William and Patrick, and four daughters, Regina Mill, Mary Wallover, Catherine Pizzullo and Jane Dapon, and the widow, Alice, are the heirs. Mr. Fallon died December 28, 1945.

With the exception of a bequest of ten per cent of his estate to Rebecca C. Wright, of Newtown, the $2500 personal and $2500 real estate holdings of Emerson P. Wright, Newtown, will be inherited by his housekeeper, Lillian Biles.

The testator, who died February 24 and executed his will May 31, 1945, described the beneficiary as his "faithful housekeeper," who was also named executrix.

Four children, Anna Mary Cernes, Miles W. Pennacker, W. H. and Paul Stanley Pennacker, will share the $4,000 personal and $4,000 real estate holdings of their mother, Hannah S. Pennacker, Perkasie. Two sons, Miles W. and W. Harold Pennacker, both of Perkasie, were named executors. The will was written November 8, 1935, and Mrs. Pennacker died February 22.

A sister, Mabel Stevens, was bequeathed the $5,000 personal estate of Alma V. Sprowles of New Britain and also named executrix. The will was executed January 7, 1927, and the testatrix died February 28.

Frisk 'Japs'; Uncover Thousands of American Dollars

Uraga, Japan.—Vigilant American search teams today uncovered thousands of skillfully-hidden American dollars and a large quantity of contraband diamonds and other jewels when they "frisked" the baggage of Japanese diplomats repatriated from Europe.

Doctors and nurses used fluoroscopes on the surprised Japs in search for clues to the disappearance of millions of dollars of Japanese assets believed undeclared to reparations authorities.

Million Dollar Fire Occurs at Lancaster

Lancaster, Pa.—Damage estimated at $4,000,000 was caused today by a fire which swept through a four-story Lancaster warehouse, destroying 1400 tons of tobacco. The heat in the warehouse, owned by the Pennsylvania Railroad, was so intense that steel shutters, bolted to the windows, were blown off.

U. S.-Britain Sign Lend-Lease Settling Contracts

Washington.—The United States and Britain today signed final contracts settling costs at the termination of war time lend lease and disposing of all major outstanding differences.

The current British loan request of four billion 400 million dollars, now before Congress, provides a credit to Britain of 650 million dollars. This is expected to balance the U. S.-British lease lend books.

ENCHANTED SPRING

The world's highest priced manuscript is coming up for auction again on April 3 in New York. The last time it was put up at public sale in London exactly eighteen years before, to the day, frantic bidders ran the price up to $75,259 before it was finally knocked down to Dr. A. S. W. Rosenbach.

Since then it has changed owners once at a private sale, reputedly at a price of more than $150,000, and the bidding can be expected to be as frantic, if not perhaps as high as this figure, at the auction next month.

It is undoubtedly a source of wonderment to millions that any man would be willing to pay such a sum for a small bundle of handwritten pages. But it will surprise virtually no one familiar with the English language to learn that this fabulous treasure is the original manuscript of Lewis Carroll's "Alice in Wonderland."

For this tale, framed by a shy young Oxford don for the pleasure of two little girls on warm summer afternoons, has a universal enchantment and appeal that seems to grow rather than lessen with the years. Nothing written before or since casts quite the same spell. Nothing set down on paper holds quite the same place in the affections of the English-speaking world.

If this were not enough, the manuscript was fashioned with the same loving care with which Lewis Carroll set the story down. The pages are filled with drawings from the author's pen on which the famous and familiar Tenniel illustrations were based. This is the spring from which children and adults of generations have drawn countless hours of enchantment, and if any manuscript is worth so much money it seems entirely proper that the original of "Alice" should be the one so honored.

MORE ANGLERS AND HUNTERS

Dr. Ira N. Gabrielson, who resigned recently as director of the Fish and Wildlife Service of the U. S. Department of the Interior, told a meeting of the North American Wildlife Conference in New York City that one of the major problems faced by conservation agencies is the great increase in recent years of hunting and fishing. In the last fiscal year in the United States there was recorded an increase of 2,000,000 hunting licenses as compared with the previous twelve-month period.

But it is worthy of note that increased hunting and fishing are not the main problems of the conservation agencies. E. Sydney Stephens, chairman of the Missouri Conservation Commission, told the same conference before which Dr. Gabrielson spoke that wildlife's biggest stake is in soil conservation. He said that by taking away the food and cover of game and by silting the streams, erosion has destroyed more game and fish than has all the shooting, trapping, casting, dynamiting and giggering combined.

The most conspicuous feature of the true Jackson was his bad temper. This kept him in hot water from boyhood to the grave. It led to a series of duels, in which he killed one man and twice was badly wounded.

His temper was troublesome enough in his personal affairs. It was a major calamity to the nation. Because he got into a silly sort of row over social procedure in Washington, he quarreled with Calhoun. This influenced him to accept a tariff proposal which wiped out protective rates over a period of years.

Hating bankers in general and certain of them in particular, he set out to tear down the banking structure upon which the country's economy was founded.

These two steps brought a panic which sometimes is held to have been even more severe than the recent depression. A great many voters, fooled by Jackson, gave him a vote of confidence on the measures; but he couldn't fool the laws of economics. It took the better part of ten years to liquidate the damage he had done.

As for the Democratic Party, he split it beyond repair. The end products of his violent personal clashes with other party leaders are to be found today in the differences between the so-called "Southern Democrats" and the White House guard of President Truman.

All in all, Andrew Jackson emerges from factual history as a political character somewhat resembling that current favorite of the comic strips, B. O. Plenty.

Disinfecting him for present consumption was a major task. But the New Deal press agents have been equal to the job.

Recent speakers blandly disregarded all the unsavory phases of the real Jackson, and presented him as a great, suave and able statesman; father of New Democracy; founder of the party, and the original "friend of the common man."

Similar bunk appears throughout the literature of the Democratic Party. In addition, propagandists have gradually carried the legend into other media. Even the field of school text books has been invaded.

Part of the legend is that Andrew Jackson, and not Jefferson, is the real founder of the Democratic Party. Text books can be found in which this is stated to be a fact, and Jefferson labeled a "Republican"—although the textbooks may find it necessary to admit elsewhere that the Republican Party was not founded until years after Jefferson died; 1854, to be exact.

Doubtless it comes as a shock to the good little students, who dutifully learn such lessons, later to pick up any standard reference book and read something like the following, quoted from the Encyclopedia Britannica:

"The Democratic Party, founded by Thomas Jefferson, the third president, the oldest continuously existing political party in the United States. . . ."

Authentic biographies of Jackson probably would be equally surprising to those of the younger generation who have been exposed to these "up-to-date" text-books which minimize the principles upon which this nation was founded and elaborate on the New Order theories as expounded by such men as Debs, Norman Thomas, Marx, Trotsky, Lenin and Sidney Hillman.

As for the Jackson dinners, most Republicans will cheerfully agree that the Democrats are welcome to commemorate him if they wish. There is strong logic, though not along the lines which the Democrats try to invent.

The twin underpinnings of the New Deal have been demagoguery and patronage-politics. Jackson was a past-master at both.

Moreover, there is a striking point in common between Jackson and such more recent disciples of his philosophy as Grover Cleveland, Woodrow Wilson and Franklin D. Roosevelt.

All four of them left the country socially demoralized and financially broke.

sen. Congressman Ranspach of Georgia, before he resigned, said, "Giving jobs to uncles, brothers, cousins and school chums has all but scuttled the merit system."

When a party treasurer taps the fat-cats for big campaign contributions upon a sort of an understanding, this isn't being greedy, it's to help a great crusade.

Why is paying more for the same merchandise inflationary, but paying more for less work non-inflationary? I can't figure that one and refer you to howlers who know all about the "Pied Pipers of Profit."

Are the spenders of other people's money Big-Hearted Charities, but those who want to keep what they have honestly earned nickle-nurses and greedy-guts?

Anyhow, the spenders are the folks who try to keep us from talking back. They remind me of the King and the Duke in "Huckleberry Finn" weeping over this sinful world.

HIGH SCHOOL SQUAD OF 45 CANDIDATES TO BE CUT BY COACH

Don Fetterman is in Charge of Baseball at Bristol High

IS NEWLY APPOINTED

Inform Boys That Every Player Must Prove His Ability for Position

Confronted with the problem of picking a starting line-up out of 45 candidates, for the Bristol High School baseball team, Coach Don Fetterman is planning to cut his squad after two weeks of drilling on the baseball diamond.

Coach Fetterman, of Ursinus, was recently appointed by the school board to take the place of Harold Stackhouse who is now coaching at Renova. Coach Fetterman is in charge of baseball while Coach Tom Campion has the track squad.

The newly-appointed coach is satisfied with the fielding prospects of his club but realizes that the hitting power is lacking and this week he has been trying to develop a long distance ball clouter. He has announced to the boys that all positions are open and every player must prove his worth to the post. Coach Fetterman is also developing some younger ball players for the future.

The most promising candidates thus far are: Pitchers, Glenn Shelly, Saxton, Wagner, Sperling and DeLise; catchers, Lawton, Scordia and Flanagan; infielders, France, Pindar, Killian, Morrell, Bruton, Mama, Heath, Marsh and McGerr; outfielders, Rittler, Pollard, Cancell, Murphy, Brittingham and Stiles.

The Bunnies will open their season on April 11th, meeting Bordentown Military Institute at Bordentown. Nine games have been arranged with openings for two more.

SCHEDULE NINE FOOTBALL GAMES FOR LANGHORNE

Coach De Risi Wants to Book 2 More Games For Season

ONE NIGHT GAME

Langhorne - Middletown XI Will Play at Riverside Sept. 28th

LANGHORNE, Mar. 27 — Coach Michael DeRisi, of the Langhorne Redskins, has announced that the Langhorne-Middletown High School has already carded nine football games for next season and will attempt to schedule two others.

Included in the schedule is the first night game ever played by the Langhorne team. This will be played at Riverside on September 28th.

The team will open against Fallsington on September 29th and after Riverside, the following teams will be played in order: George School, Lower Moreland, Bristol, Newtown, Morrisville, Southampton, and Bensalem.

The Redskins along with Bristol and Morrisville form the Lower Bucks County Football Conference. These teams have also formed a Junior High School League.

YOUTH BASKETBALL PLAYERS TO HEAR TALKS

David Landreth and Mark Abbott will address the players of the Bristol Youth Basketball League tomorrow night at the Knights of Columbus home, Radcliffe street, at seven o'clock.

Landreth, who recently returned from a trip south where he visited several major league training camps, will speak on the prospects of some of the clubs he has seen in action.

Abbott, known as "Ace" Abbott, is a former All-American basketball player from the City College of New York. He played the past season with the professional Baltimore team and will tell the boys of his experiences on the court.

In addition, the league officials have secured a talkie film of the last world's series and a football game. These will be shown through the courtesy of Clarence Winter.

George Knoll Informs of Activities of The B-29's

ANDALUSIA, Mar. 27 — There were two main presentations at the dinner meeting of Bensalem Rotary Club in King Hall last evening. The speaker of the evening was George Knoll; and the second portion of the program included motion pictures shown by Andrew Weisenburg, who has visited the club on previous occasions.

Mr. Knoll, who served as a sergeant with the 39th Bomber Group, dwelt on performance of the B-29's. He told of operations from Guam where he was stationed, informing that weight of a B-29, loaded, was 138,000 pounds. The average mission covered 14 hours he stated, with 500 planes usually participating in a mission, this number for one operation consuming about 3,300,000 gallons of gasoline. Of the 2200 men comprising a bomber group there were usually 700 who were fliers, Knoll informed. Each group, he further stated, consisted of approximately 50 planes.

Mr. Weisenburg's films included one dealing with the San Francisco-Oakland bridge; and a "short" on the Great Lakes ore carriers.

Other guests were: Charles M. Pauls, Edgington; Kimbel Faust, Hulmeville; LeRoy Edwards, Langhorne.

Hendrickson and Warren Complete Navy Service

BAINBRIDGE, Md., Mar. 27 — William E. Hendrickson, CO, has been honorably discharged from naval service at the Separation Center, here.
